KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Market/Price Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market prices of stocks/equities. It refers to the portfolio's exposure to marked-to-market valuation due to market price fluctuations of the stocks/equities.
Liquidity Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a price that could result in a loss. This may be caused by low trading volume due to different reasons such as securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers and/or sellers (limited buy/sell activity) or underdeveloped capital market.
Credit Risk / Default Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of fixed income security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower or counterparty to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security.
Foreign Exchange Risk:	The value of investments may be affected by fluctuations in the exchange rates of securities in a different currency other than the base currency of the Investor Fund. The Participants should note that the Fund is denominated in Philippine Peso and will be invested in a US dollar denominated share class of the Target Fund. The foreign currency position of the Investor will not be hedged.
Country Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by/in foreign countries due to the political, economic and social structures of these countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country involved which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account in making such investments.
Other Risks:	Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by Metrobank. These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stocks, mortgages); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.
Investing in Other Funds:	The fund bears all risks of investment strategies employed by the underlying funds, including the risk that the underlying funds will not meet their investment objectives.

The Fund invests only in high-credit quality assets which are evaluated using a rigorous internal scoring model required under the Trustee's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits and position limits together with regulatory exposure limits are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis. The Fund may also use financial derivatives solely for hedging risk exposures.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

The fund increased by 3.68% in February, in line with the All Country World Index Total Return's (In Peso Terms) 4.16% increase by remaining heavy on the technology sector, which continued to rally into 2024.

The S&P500 continued to rise on optimism that the Fed will ease rate in 2024 given the continued decline of inflation. Consumer cyclical, industrials and technology led the mark-up.

The over-optimism for rate cuts returns to planet Earth after showcasing economic resilience.

From an initial expectation of 6 rate cuts in 2024, markets have adjusted probabilities to 3-4 cuts as inflation proved more persistent than anticipated. Federal officials have emphasized that policy rates might remain restrictive for a while to achieve the 2% inflation target, signaling a lack of urgency to cut rates. In January, the central bank maintained rates at 5.25% to 5.5%. Markets anticipate a rate pivot in June, with a 60% conviction. Fed officials penciled in three quarter-percentage point cuts by the end of 2024.

Recent data, including 3.1% YoY inflation, Logistics Managers Index at 55.6, jobless claims falling to 212k, and an unchanged 3.7% unemployment rate, suggests the U.S. economy's resilience in a high-interest rate environment spanning two decades. However, concerns arise from mounting consumer debt and credit card delinquencies, reaching pre-COVID-19 era highs. Economic uncertainties have contributed to a surprising decline in consumer confidence from 114.8 to 106.7.

The S&P500 continued to make new all-time highs and broke above the 5,000 mark in February as optimism continued to shift towards a soft-landing narrative, the sharp rise of the S&P500 has pushed the index into an extreme overbought state. In 4Q-2023, roughly 70% of index names were within earnings expectations; however, sales growth has been concentrated in the technology sector. Overall, U.S. markets remain bullish and no sell signal has been triggered. For the month, consumer cyclical, industrials and technology outperformed.

In the short to medium term, the evolving soft-landing narrative raises concerns about reflation, given fiscal spending ahead of the 2024 U.S. Presidential elections, improving PMI data, and equity markets hitting new all-time highs. Tensions in the Middle East have also driven WTI to increase by 3.17% for the month, bringing the YTD increase to 11%.

Among the fund's current holdings, the Franklin Technology Fund was the top performer with a month-on-month gain of 7.78%. The driver for Franklin was Nvidia, a U.S. software company that offers interactive 3D graphics to the mainstream market. Nvidia is the top performing name among its magnificent 7 peers. The fund is capitalizing on favorable dollar time deposit rates, offering a 60-day yield of 5.20%.
